100 YEARS: 1926-2026

ERNEST A. LOVE FIELD

AND AVIATION AT PRESCOTT

Selected References

AND ADDITIONAL READING

Barks, Cindy. “History of Prescott airport dates back more than eight decades.” Prescott Daily Courier, February 18, 2008: --. [includes recollections of former Prescott CPT/WTS cadet, Cal Cohen]

Bates, Al. “Fledgling World War II warbirds trained at Ernest Love Field.” Sharlot Hall Museum Library & Archives, November 10, 2001: online ("Days Past" feature[1]). (Prescott Daily Courier, November 11, 2001: 9A)

Berquist, Goodwin. "Yavapai County was 'Grace Sparkes Territory' from 1910 to 1938" Part 1 of 2. Sharlot Hall Museum & Archives, July 19, 2003: online ("Days Past" feature[1]). (Prescott Daily Courier, July 13, 2003: --)

———— . "Grace Sparkes: Career with Chamber Ended Abruptly in 1938 - Part 2." Sharlot Hall Museum Library & Archives, July 19, 2003: online ("Days Past" feature[1]). (Prescott Daily Courier, July 20, 2003: --)

Bong, Worcester and Woodcock, Mick. Fort Whipple ("Images of America"). Charleston, SC: Arcadia Publishing, 2025. [context for the Whipple Barracks Target Range]

Bourgault, Elizabeth. "Prescott's Forgotten Legendary Second World War Aviator – Major Frank Schiel, Jr.: Part 1." Sharlot Hall Museum Library & Archives, November 9, 2019: online ("Days Past" feature[1]). (Prescott Daily Courier, November 10, 2019: 7A)

———— . "Prescott's Forgotten Legendary Second World War Aviator – Major Frank Schiel, Jr.: Part 2." Sharlot Hall Museum Library & Archives, November 16, 2019: online ("Days Past" feature[1]). (Prescott Daily Courier, November 17, 2019: --)

Callahan, Timothy. “Years grow for Love; City to rededicate airport, marking 70th anniversary.” Prescott Daily Courier, August 23, 1998: 1A, 10A. [72nd anniversary]

Christenson, Andrew L. "Ernest A. Love Terminal." Sharlot Hall Museum Library & Archives, October 5, 2019: online ("Days Past" feature[1]). (Prescott Daily Courier, October 6, 2019: 6A) [Prescott's 1948 terminal building from the standpoint of architecture and historical significance]

“First Flight for the Navy in Arizona” (U.S. Navy Public Relations Office. Eleventh Naval District). Arizona Highways, Vol. XIV, No. 2 (February 1943): 14–19, 30.

Hood, Homalu. “Prescott’s Airport was dedicated ‘Ernest A. Love Field’; All reports are in... stories have been substantiated.” Prescott Daily Courier, February 23, 1969: 1, 2. [includes a letter from Gail Gardner recounting in detail the 1928 (second) dedication of Prescott’s airport]

Maurer, Maurer. Aviation in the U.S. Army, 1919–1939. Washington: United States Air Force, Office of Air Force History, 1987. [Chapter II provides excellent context for early Army Air Service cross-country flying]

Munderloh, Terry. “Coming weekend marks 75 years for Love Airfield and ERAU.” Sharlot Hall Museum Library & Archives, September 29, 2001: online (“Days Past” feature[1]). (Prescott Daily Courier, September 30, 2001: 13A)

Orchard, Wayne J. “The U.S. Navy Sailed into Cottonwood During World War II - Part 1." Sharlot Hall Museum Library & Archives, August 20, 2005: online (“Days Past” feature[1]). (Prescott Daily Courier, August 21, 2005: --)

———— . “Cottonwood: Was 'Home Away From Home’ for World War II Cadets - Part 2." Sharlot Hall Museum Library & Archives, August 27, 2005: online (“Days Past” feature[1]). (Prescott Daily Courier, August 28, 2005: --)

Palmer, Verina E. “Early Prescott aviators flew high and wild” (“Days Past” feature[1]). Prescott Daily Courier, February 6, 1989: 18A. [photos; references to Ernest Love, Carl Hickerson, Floyd Murphy and Grant MacCurdy]

Parker, Charles Franklin. “Airport at Prescott.” Arizona Highways, Vol. XXIII, No. 5 (May 1947): 14–15.

Pisano, Dominick A. To Fill the Skies with Pilots: The Civilian Pilot Training Program, 1939–1946. Chicago: University of Illinois Press, 1993.

Prescott Airport General Plan, Landing Field – Program 'C' (sheet 1 of 22 sheets). Los Angeles: Civil Aeronautics Administration, October 1941. [construction drawing with airport layout and engineering notes; sheet 1 is comprehensive; held by Sharlot Hall Museum Library and Archives; available online via the Arizona Memory Project] https://azmemory.azlibrary.gov

Reinhold, Ruth M. Ruth Reinhold Manuscript Collection. Unpublished and unbound. [originally archived by the Arizona Historical Foundation, this collection was transferred to the Library and Archives at the Arizona Historical Society's Heritage Center, Tempe; includes manuscripts, extensive research notes, documents, correspondence, etc., (1908-1982) assembled by Ruth M. Reinhold and others for the production of Sky Pioneering (see entry below); the finished book as published by The University of Arizona Press represents only a portion of the historical material available in this collection; a separate "Ruth Reinhold Aviation Photograph Collection” is also housed at AHS]

Reinhold, Ruth M. Sky Pioneering; Arizona In Aviation History. Tucson: The University of Arizona Press, 1982.

Roesler, Alan L. An Arizona Aviator In France; The Life of Ernest A. Love, 147th Aero Squadron, USAS. Mesa, Arizona: Roesler Enterprises Publishing, 2005.

Rosenhahn, Ron. "Welling's Wing." America's Flyways, April 2005: 14-15. [story of the Frontier Airlines DC-3, flown by Capt. Dale Weller, that lost a significant portion of its left wing when it struck a mountain en route from Prescott to Phoenix in 1957; a follow-up story by Rosenhahn and Billy Walker included the backstory and described the successful efforts to find and retrieve the wing section in 2005; the follow-up was published online, but is no longer accessible]

Strickland, Patricia. The Putt-Putt Air Force: The Story of The Civilian Pilot Training Program and The War Training Service (1939–1944). Washington: Department of Transportation, Federal Aviation Administration, 1970. [116 pages]

Stringer, David H. "Non-Skeds: The Story of America's Supplemental Airlines." American Aviation Historical Society Journal, five parts [illustrated]:
Part 1, AAHS Journal, Vol. 64, No. 4 (Winter 2019): 285-291.
Part 2, AAHS Journal, Vol. 65, No. 3 (Fall 2020): 219-225.
Part 3, AAHS Journal, Vol. 65, No. 4 (Winter 2020): 266-272.
Part 4, AAHS Journal, Vol. 66, No. 2 (Summer 2021): 82-87.
Part 5, AAHS Journal, Vol. 66, No. 3 (Fall 2021): 179-185.

Vaughn, Cindy. "Ernest Love, Prescott's Hero of World War I." Sharlot Hall Museum Library & Archives, June 16, 2018: online ("Days Past" feature[1]). (Prescott Daily Courier, June 17, 2018: --)

Vogel, Joseph P. Untitled, unpublished and unbound research notes relating specifically to the development of Ernest A. Love Field. 1998? A copy is held in the archives of the Sharlot Hall Museum (AB25 F12). [extensive work; excerpts from city council meeting minutes and municipal documents with some contextual material and annotations added; includes contractual and operational details not found in other sources; organized chronologically from 1927 through the 1990s]

"Whipple Barracks Target Range Site Inspection Report"; Formerly Used Defense Sites (FUDS) Project J09AZ070701. Los Angeles: U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, September 2008. [environmental inspection prepared by Parsons for the Army Corps of Engineers]

AERONAUTS and AVIATORS 1891-1926

Kalt, William D. III. America's 1890s Parachute Queen; Pioneer Skydiving Sensation Miss Hazel Keyes. Irvine: Universal Publishers, 2022.

Kalt, William D. III, "Miss Hazel Keyes: A 'Very Daring and Nervy Little Woman'." Sharlot Hall Museum Library and Archives, February 27, 2023: online (Days Past" feature[1]).

"Lieut. Pearson's Flight To The Grand Canyon In Arizona." Air Service News Letter, Vol. V, No. 26 (July 13, 1921): 3-4.

THE 1926 DEDICATION PILOTS

Rasmussen, Cecilia. "Trailblazing Stunt Pilot Was the Stuff Movies Are Made of" ("L.A. Then and Now" feature). Los Angeles Times, October 21, 2001. [Frank Clarke]
https://www.latimes.com/archives/la-xpm-2001-oct-21-me-59770-story.html

Sragow, Michael. Victor Fleming: An American Movie Master. Lexington: The University Press of Kentucky, 2008, 2013.

[1] The "Days Past" local history stories are usually written by Prescott-area historians. They have traditionally been published online by the Sharlot Hall Museum Library & Archives. Today they are presented by the Sharlot Hall Museum in collaboration with the Prescott Corral of Westerners. The stories are also published as a regular feature in the Prescott Daily Courier newspaper.
https://archives.sharlothallmuseum.org/articles/days-past-articles/1

SEE ALSO: CHRONOLOGICAL INDEX OF NEWSPAPER AND PERIODICAL ARTICLES